

DYLAN IS ELECTRIC

It seems new-ish eatery/social hub Fade Street Social can do no wrong. Now one of Dublin's hottest night spots – good luck getting a table at weekends – is launching a menu for The Restaurant which uses only Irish ingredients and will be cooked in a traditional Irish style. It's not all boxty and coddle as owner/chef Dylan McGrath has created dishes like white venison casserole, beef tongue with carpaccio of scallop and a selection of charred, smoked meats and fish. Mam's Irish stew never looked like this, that's for sure. Fadestreetsocial.com
